

Get to Know New York's Airspace

Are you intimidated by New York's alphabet-soup of airspace? Not sure how to handle the SFRA? Think that Class B is only for airline pilots? Join us as Brooklyn local and KFRG-based instructor Amelia Griffith (CFII, MEI, AGI) leads a presentation and discussion about our local airspace. Topics will include Review of airspace types, How to navigate local airspace, including the Hudson SFRA, Airport operations, from Class E to Class B, and Working with local Air Traffic Controllers. Your questions about local airspace operations will be answered. Click here to RSVP.

Directions: Come to the 5th Floor Reception
